

-5. USHAS., nourishing (all), coines<sub>3</sub> daily, like a matron, the directress (of household duties) ? conducting all transient (creatures) to decay. (At lier coming) each biped stirs; and she wakes up the birds.

6. She animates the diligent, and sends clients (to their patrons)/ and, shedder of dews<sub>3</sub> knows not delay. Bestower of food, at thy rising the soar-ing birds no longer suspend (their flight).

.7. This auspicious USHAS has harnessed (her yehicles) from afar, above the rising of the sun;
 and she conies gloriously upon man, with a hundred chariots/

8. All liying beings adore her, that she may be visible: bringer of good, she lights up the world:
 the affluent daughter of heaven drives away the malevolent, and disperses the absorbers<sup>0</sup> (of moisture).

9. Shine around, TTsHAS, with cheering lustre,
 bringing us, every day, much happiness^ and scattering darkness.

10. Inasmuch, bringer of good, as tloii dawnest,

» *Yi * srijati ** arthwah*, she lets loose askers, solicitors ; for they, says Say ana, having risen at early morning, go to the bouses of those who "are their respective benefactors,—tipi (jjdclwMli)

* mJiaJiMle samutikdya twal&yaddtrigriJie gachcMamL

<sup>b</sup> Perhaps, "with many rays of light" is what is intended by the many chariots of the dawn.

<sup>c</sup> Sr-i&Jiah, i.e., sosJiayiir'm^ the driers up.
Possibly, the clouds are intended, as taking up the dews of night: but no explanation of the application of the term is given.

VOL. I.

1***